Event Type: AI-Based Game Event

About the Event

Maze Maniac was an interactive AI-based gaming event organized by Gradient Core on 25 November 2022. The event was designed around a challenging world of mazes, where participants had to navigate through different mazes, identify the correct path, and reach the destination within a given time. The event combined entertainment with logical reasoning, problem-solving, speed, and strategic thinking.

Objectives

The event aimed to:

- Develop participants' logical thinking and problem-solving abilities.
- Introduce participants to AI-based concepts in gaming.
- Test quick decision-making and strategic thinking under time constraints.
- Encourage healthy competition and provide an engaging gaming experience.

Event Structure & Rules

The competition was conducted in multiple rounds, with the difficulty increasing at each stage.

Round 1: Participants were given a maze based on a simple algorithm and had to solve it within the allotted time. The first 30 participants to successfully complete the maze qualified for the next round.

Round 2: The selected participants faced a more challenging maze, requiring greater concentration, analytical ability, and strategic planning.

Final Round: The finalists participated in an exciting and fun challenge, designed to test their skills while providing an engaging conclusion to the event.

Outcome

A total of 50 participants participated enthusiastically in the event. The progressive difficulty of the rounds kept the competition engaging and encouraged participants to apply logical reasoning, spatial awareness, patience, and quick decision-making.

Conclusion

Maze Maniac was successfully conducted by Gradient Core, providing participants with a unique blend of technology-inspired gaming and problem-solving. The event successfully promoted innovation, analytical thinking, competitive spirit, and active participation while offering an enjoyable and memorable experience to all participants.
